

UCEC SUCCESS STORIES

1 Stock image

PATRICK

Patrick left home because of a bad temper and of family issues. He started stealing to make a living and support his family. He was then ostracized by his family and made his way to Durban, where he found himself on the streets. It was then that he became one of the organizations beneficiary's, where he received counseling and support.

He was given employment at UCEC and accommodation at the Crisis Centre for abused men. He attended the Sunday Service regularly and was invited to play the keyboard at the services.

During his journey at UCEC, he managed to save a part of his salary and start up a little business. After much endurance he managed and return to his home town in the Eastern Cape. He is also serving the Lord. We are delighted to say that he has re united with his family.

2Stock image

HLENGIWE

Hlengiwe visited the centre 3 years ago, disillusioned, suicidal and pregnant as a result of being raped. She wanted no part of the baby's life but after much counseling, prayer and support from the team at UCEC, she is now the proud mother of a beautiful baby girl and is loving motherhood.

She was encouraged to continue her studies, which she has. She is doing her 3rd year –Masters in Law.

UCEC has witnessed dedication and focus in Hlengiwe on serving the Lord, and is also so proud of the turn in her life that she has chosen.